CONTENTS OF VOLUME 6, 1916

Number 1, January-February

	PAGES
Lashley, K. S. The color vision of birds. 1. The spectrum of the domestic fowl	1–26
Rau, Phil and Nellie. The biology of the mud-daubing wasps as revealed by the contents of their nests	27–63
Myers Garry C. The importance of primacy in the learning of a pig	64–69
Wheeler, William M. The marriage-flight of a bull-dog ant (Myrmecia sanguinea F. Smith)	70–73
Wheeler, William M. Jean-Henri Fabre	74–80
Financial statement for 1915.

Number 2, March-April

Sayle, Mary Honora. The reactions of Necturus to stimuli received through the skin	81–102
Fletcher, John M., Cowan, Edwina A., Arlitt, Ada H. Experiments on the behavior of chicks hatched from alcoholized eggs	103–137
DuPorte, E. Melville. Death feigning reactions in Tychius picirostris	138–149
Torrey, Harry Beal. The physiological analysis of behavior	150–159
Turner, C. H. Notes on the feeding behavior and oviposition of a captive American false spider. (Eremobates formicaria Koch)	160–168

Number 3, May-June

Johnson, H. M. Visual pattern-discrimination in the vertebrates—III. Effective differences in width of visible striae for the monkey and the chick	169–188
Johnson, H. M. Visual pattern-discrimination in the vertebrates—IV. Effective differences in direction of visible striae for the monkey and the chick	189–204

PAGES

Johnson, H. M. Visual pattern-discrimination in the vertebrates—V. A demonstration of the dog's deficiency in detail-vision. 205–221
Burtt, Harold E. A study of the behavior of the white rat by the multiple-choice method. 222–246
Churchill, E. P., Jr. The learning of a maze by gold-fish. . 247–255
Kempf, Edward J. Two methods of subjective learning in the monkey Macacus rhesus. 256–265
Notes
Hunter, Walter S. Titles of behavior papers. 266

NUMBER 4, JULY-AUGUST

Yerkes, Ada W. Comparison of the behavior of stock and inbred albino rats. 267–296
Wenrich, D. H. Notes on the reactions of bivalve mollusks to changes in light intensity: image formation in pecten. . 297–318
Notes
Goodale, H. D. Note on the behavior of capons when brooding chicks 319–324
Harris, J. Arthur. The habits in oviposition of the beetle Bruchus. 325–326
Peterson, Joseph. Tone and noise perception in the white rat. 327–329
Montané, Louis (C. S. Rossy, Translator). A Cuban chimpanzee. 330–333
Vincent, Stella B. The refractive power of lens and fluid media of the mammalian eye. 334

NUMBER 5, SEPTEMBER-OCTOBER

Walton, A. C. Reactions of Paramoecium caudatum to light. 335–340
Buddenbrock, W. von. A criticism of the tropism theory of Jacques Loeb. 341–366
Notes
Rau, Phil and Nellie. Notes on the behavior of certain solitary bees 367–370
Bingham, Harold C. Setting reactions of bird dogs to turtles. 371–373
Announcement. 374

NUMBER 6, NOVEMBER-DECEMBER

PAGES

Taliaferro, W. H. Literature for 1915 on the behavior of the lower invertebrates 375–382

Turner, C. H. Literature for 1915 on the behavior of spiders and insects other than ants 383–399

Wells, M. M. Literature for 1915 on ants and myrmecophils 400–406

Vincent, Stella B. Literature for 1915 on the behavior of vertebrates 407–418
